Like the NL, the AL is rather balanced this year. Really, only a few teams like Johns Creek, Lake Wobegon and Yorktown have no shot at the playoffs. I suppose now that Florida is on auto pilot you can exclude them as well....too bad as I would have had them in the mix for the 5th spot. I think the ex-Salem team is the best, but has some flaws. After that you have California, Baton Rouge, Hart Street and Hotlanta with the best chances. But it would not shock me to see a team like Urpaign, Arsenal or Milford squeak in. You know at the end of the year there will be a couple of 100 win teams, but you tell me which of this group looks like a slam dunk elite team? I don't see one. Should really be a fun season. Lots of parity, in my not so humble opinion. Congrats guys....nice job improving your teams....except Glen who sucks! LOL. Have a good season!
