

DEVIL DOODLE

The Blue Devils mercifully ended their first losing season in team history finishing a dismal 75-87 - a 28 game drop from the 103 win season of 2001. Manager Lou Piniella, the only manager in club history, was at a loss for words. "I don't know how to explain it. We basically had the same cast of characters as last year on offense and we thought our pitching was improved with Matt Morris returning and the acquisition of Brad Radke to replace Hampton & Hernandez. But it didn't work out. Hard to believe we could be 28 games worse than last year!"

Making things more confusing - Connecticut out hit opponents (1561 to 1558) out homered opponents (219-183) and out walked opponents (598-569) but somehow managed to be outscored by opponents (870-839). The offense was hurt this year by some injuries and down years. Edgardo Alfonzo went from .316 27-102 in 2001 to only .251 14-46 this season with a nagging back injury. Geoff Jenkins went from .278 37-131 in 2001 to a paltry .236 15-43 this season battling shoulder problems. Even "Mr. Consistent" Bernie Williams went from his career season of 2001 (.322 41-136) to a very uninspiring .301 25-85 this season. Also of note, the Blue Devils struck out an alarming 1,123 times - almost a 7 strikeout/game rate. This was the most strikeouts in team history easily topping the 1999 team which had 1,027 times.

On the pitching side, the 870 runs allowed and 1,558 hits were both the 2nd highest in team history and the 4.78 team ERA ranked 4th highest. Disappointment isn't a strong enough word to describe management's feelings about their top 2 starters - Morris and Radke. Both had been expected to challenge for 20 win seasons but they both came closer to 20 loss seasons. Morris finished 11-15 with a 4.41 ERA. He pitched much better in the second half of the season and struck out 205 men in 236 innings. Radke was worse going 12-17 5.16 ERA allowing 281 hits in 239 innings. Hopefully, this was an aberration and both guys will pitch up to their potential in the future.

During the offseason, Blue Devil management will look to shore up the starting rotation as the trade of Todd Ritchie creates a big innings hole. The bullpen will be very strong helped by the acquisition of Mike Williams and the expected rise of youngster Luis Vizcaino and submariner Chad Bradford. Offensively, the Blue Devils will try to improve at 2nd base with the expected move of Alfonzo to 3b leaving only rookie Brent Abernathy at 2nd. Also, with Alfonzo moving to 3B, the team now has two solid 3Bmen in Alfonzo and Aaron Boone. One of those guys is expected to be traded during the offseason. Connecticut will be drafting around #12 in the first round - a position they are not used to being in and hopefully can come up with a good prospect for the future.

Mgr. Piniella summed things up "We just need to forget this season and don't look back. We had a great run for 15 straight years - something to be proud of. Now we turn the page and hopefully start a new streak in 2003"
